

Kurogi Shanghai earned a star in Black Pearl Restaurant Guide !

Kurogi Shanghai, a highly regarded luxurious Japanese restaurant opened in March 2018 by Laox Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as we), earned a star in Black Pearl Restaurant Guide^{*1} 2020.

309 restaurants in 22 cities in China, including Shanghai, Beijing, and Hong Kong and 5 cities abroad including Tokyo, New York, and Paris are honored in this year's Black Pearl Restaurant Guide. Cuisine experts and renowned gourmets from Black Pearl make anonymous visits to rigorously and objectively evaluate restaurants on three criteria: food, overall operation, and how the restaurant cherishes tradition while innovating.

Kurogi Shanghai was awarded a star for its dishes that bring out the best of ingredients in season and honor the Japanese culinary culture as well as its sophisticated ambience and cordial service.

Kurogi Shanghai will spearhead our efforts to bring the Japanese cooking culture and culinary experience to the Chinese market.

※1: Black Pearl Restaurant Guide is a restaurant evaluation system that has been published by Meituan Dianping, a leading review site in China. This year, 10 restaurants from 5 cities outside China are selected including FUREIKA and SZECHWAN RESTAURANT, two prestigious Chinese restaurants in Tokyo.

■ Comment from Kurogi's cheff

It is a great honor to be awarded a star in Black Pearl Restaurant Guide. We hope for your continued support and patronage.

■ Kurogi Shanghai

Kurogi Shanghai opened in March 2018 in Bellagio Shanghai, a hotel located in the Shanghai Bund, in collaboration with Kurogi, a Japanese restaurant that earned a star in MICHELIN GUIDE Tokyo and is known as the most difficult restaurant to book in Tokyo.
